Financial protection for the unexpected

Designed just for UC employees, three supplemental health insurance plans help to provide a financial safety net for the unexpected.

These plans offer flexible financial assistance that complements the protection of your UC medical and disability coverage. When you have a covered accident, illness or hospitalization, these plans pay a cash benefit directly to you — not to a doctor or hospital. The cash benefit is yours to spend any way you like.

It's protection that removes the worry of covering things like unpaid medical expenses, such as deductibles, copays/coinsurance or other household and living expenses, so you can focus on recovering, not finances.

Accident Ease the pain of unexpected expenses

Your child gets hurt playing soccer. You're painting the kitchen and the ladder slips. If you receive medical treatment for a covered accident, you get a check to help cover expenses.

Critical Illness Serious illness can mean serious costs

Cancer, heart attack, stroke, coronavirus: When a covered critical illness strikes, this plan sends a lump-sum payment directly to you.

The plan also pays you for getting a yearly preventive health screening.

Hospital Indemnity Hospital stays can catch you by surprise

Some hospital stays are planned. Others catch you by surprise. This plan pays a predetermined dollar amount directly to you when you're admitted to the hospital, and it pays a daily benefit for up to 30 days.

How the plans work

The plans are administered by Prudential. In the event of medical treatment for a covered accident, covered illness or hospitalization, you file a claim and get a check from Prudential. The cash benefit is paid directly to you — in addition to what your insurance plans pay.

You choose how to use your cash benefit

The infographic is a grid of six teal-colored boxes. The first box on the left contains the text 'For medical expenses not covered by your health insurance' and an icon of a medical bill with a green cross and three red dollar signs. The second box contains an icon of a house and the text 'Everyday living expenses — like rent, mortgage or car payments'. The third box contains icons of a stroller, a person with a cane, and a dog, with the text 'Home health care; child, elder and pet care'. The fourth box contains an icon of a vacuum cleaner and the text 'Housekeeping'. The fifth box contains icons of a fork, plate, and knife, with the text 'Meal preparation and/or delivery'. The sixth box contains an icon of an orange car and the text 'Transportation to doctor and therapy appointments'.

What have you got to save?

If you've considered moving to a lower-cost medical plan but worry about the potential increase in out-of-pocket costs in the event of a covered accident, critical illness, or hospital stay, supplemental health insurance might be your answer.

Consider all your benefit options and costs — both the premium you pay for coverage and what you pay when you get care. A combination of a supplemental health insurance plan plus a lower-premium medical plan could save you money while helping to provide financial protection for a worst-case scenario.

Custom plans, group rates, guaranteed coverage

UC partners with Prudential to offer group coverage designed especially for UC employees at group prices. You pay the full cost of any coverage you choose through convenient payroll deductions. Your premiums are paid with after-tax dollars, which means you generally don't pay taxes on any benefit payments you receive from the plan(s). Enrollment is guaranteed.
